

UO COVID-MAP Testing info sheet October 20, 2020

As President Schill and Provost Phillips shared in a recent campus message, the University of Oregon COVID-19 surveillance testing is expanding to include voluntary testing.

Important information:

- Sign-up closes at 5:00pm the day before each session—same-day registration is not available.
- There is currently no cost for testing.
- Testing takes place at Matthew Knight Arena; enter at the west entrance behind Ford Alumni Center.
- Employees may participate while on-shift during work time. However, employees who do not normally work during the time the testing is provided will need to do so on their own time.

You should not participate if you:

- Tested or were diagnosed positive for COVID-19 in the past 90 days
- Are currently isolating or quarantining due to contact with a known positive case
- Are feeling sick or experiencing COVID-19 symptoms

About the testing process:

The testing process should only take 15-30 minutes to complete from arrival to departure. While there may be some wait time, lines are expected to move quickly. The testing procedure involves a self-collected nasal swab.

About results:

Participants will be notified of their results within four days, and calls will be made before 5:00 p.m. We ask that participants anticipate receiving test results by phone or email and to be responsive when contacted.

For more information:

More information about sample collection and the testing process is available on the UO coronavirus website.

Your health and safety as well as that of the entire UO community remains a top priority. The COVID-19 Monitoring and Assessment Program (MAP) and concurrent contact-tracing efforts – which are all conducted in collaboration with Lane County Public Health– are critical to the university’s COVID-19 response. Thank you for participating in this important initiative by getting tested.
