

American Psychoanalytic Association, Schools
Committee
Anna Freud Educational Achievement Award

This award is presented to a person, school or educational institution that furthers psychoanalytically informed work with pre-K-12 educators, schools and their students. This prize will be presented during APsaA's 2021 National Meeting, in February of that year, online. There is an honorarium of $1000.

The submissions may be based in, but not exclusive to, pre-K-12 schools, professional development centers, colleges, universities and institutes of education. Applicants are invited to describe how their work is aligned with all of the following criteria:

- The work is psychoanalytically informed;
- The work includes psychoanalysts and educators working together, and learning from each other;
- The work includes ongoing systematic learning, research or program planning.

Initial submissions should be written in a summary of no more than three pages. Longer submissions will not be considered. Finalists may be contacted for further information. Please submit a written or electronic summary of your work, along with a brief curriculum vitae of no more than one page, by December 1, 2020. Paper entries must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a written reply.

This annual award is co-sponsored by the American Psychoanalytic Association, the International Journal of Applied Psychoanalytic Studies, and the educational journal, Schools: Studies in Education.

John Samuel Tieman, Ph. D.
P. O. Box 300246
St. Louis, Missouri 63130
United States Of America
email: jstieman@aol.com