To qualify for this study, you must fit all of the following criteria:

- ☐ You are a student in a psychology doctoral program.
- ☐ You completed a practicum at some point during the 2019-2020 academic year.
- ☐ You received virtual supervision in that practicum at some point during COVID-19.

Purpose: To examine psychology doctoral students' satisfaction with the virtual supervision they received in their practicum/externship experiences during COVID-19 and compare it to their satisfaction with supervision before COVID-19.

Time Commitment: This study includes an online survey via Qualtrics that will take roughly 15 minutes. Please use this link to access the survey if you would like to participate:
