HOST A BERKELEY MPH STUDENT

Summer Priority Deadline: Feb. 1, 2022

Opportunities invited on a rolling basis*

The UC Berkeley School of Public Health invites you to host a student enrolled in our Master of Public Health (MPH) degree program through a collaborative practicum experience!

In exchange for offering learning opportunities and access to a broader professional network, host organizations receive technical support on projects and gain fresh perspectives from early career public health professionals.

In 2021, over 200 Berkeley MPH students provided more than 65,000 professional service hours to diverse health sectors!

Next Steps
