

May 10, 2024

Participate in the Grad Research Forum

Showcase your research, connect with your peers, and practice for conferences and hiring programs. All panel presenters and the top poster presenters receive cash prizes.

- Posters: Posters summarize your research and provide a starting place for discussion and lively conversation.
- Panel Presentations: Collaborate as a team with fellow graduate students to present and explain your research in 45 minutes on one of the available topics.

Proposals
due April 17!

“Talking to people at the research forum about what I’m working on was a productive way to process my own ideas and reach the next level of clarity.”

— Christopher, graduate student
