

Bridging Divides: Understanding Antisemitism and Islamophobia

Wednesday, May 22, 2024

5:00-6:30 p.m.

Gerlinger Lounge

Open to the UO Community

Priority for UO students; encourage them to arrive early

Two leading scholars and public intellectuals, David Schraub (Lewis and Clark Law School) and Hussein Ibish (Arab Gulf States Institute, formerly American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee), will help us understand antisemitism and Islamophobia historically as well as in this complicated and confusing moment.

Capacity is limited. A livestream will be available using the QR code.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:
bit.ly/dge-educational-response

David Schraub

*Associate Professor of Law,
Lewis and Clark Law School*

David Schraub is an Associate Professor of Law at Lewis & Clark Law School, teaching constitutional law and anti-discrimination law. He is a prolific writer on contemporary issues of racism and antisemitism.

Hussein Ibish

Senior Resident Scholar, Arab Gulf States Institute

Hussein Ibish is a senior resident scholar at the Arab Gulf States Institute in Washington. He is a regular columnist for The National, The Atlantic and The Daily Beast.

Educational Responses to the Israel-Palestine Conflict

Sponsored by the Division of Global Engagement. Full list of co-sponsors listed on international.uoregon.edu/educational-responses

The University of Oregon is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution committed to cultural diversity and compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. This publication will be made available in accessible formats upon request. Accommodations for people with disabilities will be provided. Contact tep@uoregon.edu or call 541-346-3206.